DOESNT NSW DESERVE A BETTER PLANNING SYSTEM?

In one easy step you can support the 'Community Charter for Good Planning' and email 6 key politicians ahead of the NSW Elections:

LCBCS members founded the 'Better Planning Network' (BPN), and update our monthly meetings on BPN activities. The BPN, together with other groups including the National Trust Australia \(NSW\), Shelter NSW, Nature NSW, National Parks Association of NSW, Inner Sydney Voice and the Total Environment Centre have developed 'Planning for People: A Community Charter for Good Planning in NSW'.

BPN first states that good planning is governed by principles that "respect the well-being of the whole community, the environment and future generations across regional, rural and urban NSW".

To let our politicians know you support the Community Charter for Good Planning and would like them to adopt the principles in NSW planning laws, fill in the form and endorse the Charter.

Visit - <http://thecomunitycharter.net.au> or <https://www.facebook.com/BetterPlanningNetwork/>
Please share! #planningforpeople and #communitycharter

For every endorsement, emails will be automatically generated to:

- The Hon Gladys Berejiklian, Premier of NSW
- The Hon. Anthony Roberts, MP, Minister for Planning
- The Hon. Michael Daley, MLC, Leader of the Opposition and Shadow Minister for Planning
- Mr David Shoebridge, MLC, The Greens NSW Spokesperson for Planning
- The Hon. Robert Borsak, MLC, Shooters and Fishers Party
- Reverend The Hon. Fred Nile, MLC, Christian Democratic Party

Australia's Population Hits 25 million but Who is Cheering?

In August 2018 Australia's population hit the 25 million mark. The huge imposition on our fragile ecosystems and water supply and the demand for capital to finance the infrastructure needs is illustrated in this snapshot taken from the STEP website:

<https://www.step.org.au/index.php/item/339-australia-s-population-hits-25-million-but-who-is-cheering> .

Public concern about the rate of population growth has increasingly focused on the shortcomings of infrastructure in Sydney and Melbourne. The ABS has been instructed to assume continuation of high rates of immigration.

Scenario B represents approximately the experience over the past ten years. The projected outcomes are as follows:

Location	Projected population (millions)
	2017	2036	2066
Australia	24.6	33.2	42.6
Greater Sydney	5.1	7.0	9.7
Greater Melbourne	4.8	7.0	10.2
Greater Brisbane	2.4	3.4	4.8

Based on these projections governments are expecting the country to provide for an extra 8.6 million citizens over the next 20 years and a further 9.4 million over the following 30 years. That's the creation of another one and a half Sydneys in only 20 years!

Where will all these people live? This is a huge imposition on our fragile ecosystems and water supply and the demand for capital to finance the infrastructure needs.

The table below gives some historical data of past migration rate to put the current situation into perspective.

For full article go to: <https://www.step.org.au>

10 year periods (ending 30 June)	Average net overseas migration pa
2009–18	221,700
1999–08	144,700
1989–98	86,500

LANE COVE NATIONAL PARK PRIVATISATION

NSW National Parks have over 50 million park visitors each year, with 5 million visits annually to the Blue Mountains National Park. Yet 100 rangers have been lost/sacked (1 in 3 of front line staff) under the NSW Berejiklian Government, and part of Lane Cove National Park was recently privatised, according to the Public Service Association of NSW (PSA NSW).

The Society's Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/LCBCS/> shows a video of a recent visit to the Lane Cove National Park by the PSA NSW's General Secretary and veteran NSW National Parks and Wildlife Service Ranger Kim de Govrik where they describe their fears for the National Parks Estate.

Investing In Our Natural Environment: A Cleaner Greener NSW

The March edition of The Village Observer features 'Investing in our Natural Environment' on page 29, an article by the Society. We join the Nature Conservation Council (NCC) in calling for urban bushland, green spaces and tree canopies to be a priority for the NSW Government.

With the NSW elections upon us we urgently need leaders that recognise a healthy, functioning environment is essential for the health and wellbeing of the people of NSW. The long and short-term objectives of governments, such as planning for a growing population, often undermine the long-term need to conserve and enhance wildlife, our natural environment and plan for a sustainable future.

Read the NCC joint environment group platform 'A Cleaner Greener NSW' that calls for the implementation and permanent protection of the 'Sydney Green Grid' and calls on Government to remove the laws and policies that allow for unchecked tree clearing for development and infrastructure (such as the Exempt and Complying Development Code and the 10/50 Bushfire Code) and to legislate to maintain and increase urban trees and tree canopy (40% increase of Sydney's tree canopy by 2030).

BMAC helps protect bushland in Longueville and Northwood

For 2 years, from Monday 18 March, 2019, Sydney Water's contractor Interflow P/L will work on the Northern Suburbs Ocean Outfall Sewer (NSOOS) - a 3 metre wide wastewater tunnel - to improve the wastewater tunnel, built in 1930's, from the Warraroon Reserve area off Dettmann Ave.

A works station and 12 metre truck will block the walking track to William Edward St, Longueville. An alternative track, bypassing the rock bridge, will still be available. Other work sites are sited in Woodford Bay and Burns Bay Reserve.

Few trees or seedbank will be impacted as the first proposal (18 months ago) has been greatly modified to accommodate concerns for bushland. Society's representatives on Council's Bushland Management Advisory Committee (BMAC) have been part of the consultation process to ensure that harm is minimised, and at completion of the work the area will be restored.

Natural & urban environment impacts by proposed Greenwich hospital site redevelopment – SSD 17-8699

On the 24th February 2019, architect Doug Stuart wrote to the Department of Planning and Environment on behalf of the Lane Cove Bushland and Conservation Society, astonished that we had not been informed of this 'State Significant Development' as it has a substantial impact on the environment, not only on the actual site but also to the surrounding residential and school area.

No deep soil planting in George Street's Central Park but innovation

We only became aware of the proposal via word of mouth since it was placed on exhibition in an obscure, inaccessible Department of Planning web site SSD 17- 8699.

The Department rejected our request that the submission time be extended beyond the set date of 15th March as the documents are extensive and will require considerable scrutiny to be able to comment constructively; we also requested that we are kept informed.

New high-rise in Lane Cove, devoid of setbacks that previously allowed for trees & deep soil planting

The Society's Autumn Plant Stall Lane Cove Plaza Saturday 30 March - 9 am to 12 noon

Come along and have a chat with the Society's local plant experts and members about native plants indigenous to the Lane Cove and the Sydney region.

Buy some plants at low prices and receive advice on how you can grow them on balconies or in backyards in Lane Cove. Handmade cards are also on sale.

The Society holds two stalls every year, in Spring and Autumn, to assist locals to grow plants endemic to Lane Cove, to raise awareness about wildlife habitat, native plants and bushland in urban areas, and to raise funds for bushland conservation.

Ring or SMS Ruth on 0409 609 940 to volunteer on one of the working bees preparing for the Stall or to assist on the day (novices welcome!).
